About Us:

Scott College of Nursing is registered with the Council on Higher Education (CHE), Lesotho, as well as the Lesotho Nursing Council (LNC). CHE and LNC have accredited all the programmes.

The Scott College of Nursing is a non-profit institution, owned by the Lesotho Evangelical Church in Southern Africa, and a Nurses' Training Institution, established in June 1961. The College began training enrolled nurses in 1961, and the programme was phased out in 1978. Running simultaneously with enrolled nursing, the Nursing Assistant Programme was started in 1976.

In preparation for training of Registered Nurses, Scott College of Nursing embarked on a bridging programme of 23 Enrolled nurses leading to their registration as General Nurses in 1999. In July 2006, the College commenced the programme for Diploma in General Nursing. In July 2012, the Diploma in Midwifery was introduced.

Presently, the College runs three programmes, namely: Diploma in Midwifery, Diploma in General Nursing and Certificate in Nursing Assistant.

The College provides quality, comprehensive and sustainable nursing education based on Research and Christian foundations.

18. Student identification cards

All new students will be issued identification cards at Scott College of Nursing. Students are expected to wear their identification cards in the clinical area at all times.

19. Library services

There are over a thousand bibliographies in the College's operational library. Books, journals, test questions, and research reports from students are all included in this type of bibliography. The library's primary goal is to support college students' access to resources and information for their educational endeavours.

There is an e-library available from EBSCO host and WHO in the form of HINARI. The Library's staff is available to help with E-Library access.

19.1 Library hours

Semester Time	Operating Hours
Monday to Thursday:	0800 Hrs – 2200 Hrs
Friday:	0800Hrs-1300Hrs
Saturday:	0800 Hrs – 1400 Hrs
Sunday:	CLOSED

19.2 Loan Periods

For a week, students are allowed to check out a maximum of two books from the library. In the event that the book is not in high demand, an extension period may be granted.

20. Computer services

A state-of-the-art computer laboratory with multiple desktop computers is located at the College. Since every computer has an internet connection, students can take advantage of a variety of educational opportunities. Wireless internet is available on the College campus, and students are encouraged to use their own personal computers. The computer lab is open during the same hours as the library (as indicated in section 19.1 Library hours).

20.1 Use of the Computer Laboratory

Students will receive assistance from the computer lab's ICT officer when using the computers and the internet. These facilities are scarce, and social use is subordinated to academic use. It is expected of students to inform the on-duty ICT officer of any difficulties they may be having.

21. The simulation laboratory

With its cutting-edge simulation lab, Scott College of Nursing is pleased to offer students practice scenarios that are as realistic as possible and replicate real-life circumstances. This allows students to hone their clinical decision-making abilities, critical thinking abilities, and procedural competency in a secure environment without endangering patients. Nursing students can practice and build confidence in a safe setting thanks to the simulation lab's high-fidelity simulators, which can replicate almost all human functions. Simulation-based learning is incorporated into every program's learning curriculum. It is meant to allow students to put theory into practice.

21.1 Use of the simulation laboratory

Students should be dressed in full uniform as they learn in the simulation lab. In the ward, simulators must be handled like patients. Every student entering the simulation lab should report to the on-site clinical instructor and sign the attendance register at the entrance.

21.2 Simulation Operating Hours

- ❖ Monday to Thursday: 0800 Hrs–1630 Hrs
- ❖ Friday: 0800hrs-1300hrs
- ❖ Saturday: CLOSED
- ❖ Sunday: CLOSED
- ❖ Public Holidays and Vacations: CLOSED
- ❖ Weekends and after hours: May be open under special request with prior arrangements to the responsible person.

22. Student support services and wellness

Comprehensive student support services and wellness initiatives are offered by the Scott College of Nursing, which are essential for boosting students' self-esteem and academic achievement. The College is always spotless and has excellent security.

22.1 Health Services

A well-equipped wellness clinic is available to both staff and students at the College. Free medical services are provided at the College's campus clinic. On weekdays, the opening hours are 0800–1630. In the event of an emergency, Scott Hospital provides medical services. Unless they are admitted or receive special services, students will not be charged for hospital services at Scott Hospital.

22.2 Sports and Recreation Services

In and around Scott College of Nursing, the College encourages and supports students participating in a range of athletic activities. Every year, the students from Scott College of Nursing take part in the Inter-Collaboration games with other nursing schools in Lesotho through the Lesotho Nurses Association-Student Chapter.

23. Student Representative Council

The Student Representative Council (SRC) represents the students' voice at Scott College of Nursing, which has a good administrative structure. The SRC speaks to the College administration on behalf of students' interests and concerns. The SRC body creates a positive, interactive school environment by giving students the chance to participate in decision-making.

24. Teaching, research, clinical and community-based learning

24.1 Teaching

Scott College of Nursing provides top-notch academic training programs that are supported by research and well-integrated administrative and quality assurance systems. The College has been at the forefront of implementing some educational technologies, such as online collaboration platforms, and places a high priority on using contemporary technology to support teaching and learning.

24.2 Research

Due to years of hard work and perseverance, the Scott College of Nursing has a stellar reputation for research. With numerous international exchange program collaborations in addition to national and local research partnerships, the College has maintained its position as one of Lesotho's premier research-rich environments. As a result, teaching and learning are becoming better, and student knowledge is growing.

24.3 Clinical Facilitation

The students' needs during their clinical years are met by the College's extensive clinical facilitation program, which is supervised by seasoned nurse educators. This beneficial program helps students acquire the knowledge, abilities, and mindset they need in a practical setting. Its main goal is to maximise student learning and get them ready for professional practice by bridging the gap between theory and practice. In order to give nursing and midwifery students useful clinical experience, Scott College of Nursing has a memorandum of understanding with five hospitals and 19 health centres.

24.4 Community-Based Learning (CBL)

Community-based Learning forms a critical component of Nursing education, allowing students to develop strong clinical reasoning and decision-making skills. Therefore, at Scott CON, students have a great opportunity to engage in community-based experiential learning through community-based learning. In order to accomplish the community-related goals of their programs, nursing students at Scott College are placed in local communities. For this reason, the College has enlisted the help of local leaders in the communities surrounding Morija.
